DAHLIAS

GROWN IN

THE DAHLIA GARDENS

MRS. T. L. TATE

ROUTE NO. 1

OLD FORT

NORTH CAROLINA

READ THIS PAGE BEFORE ORDERING

An extra good season gives large bulbs. I guarantee them true to name.

Send in orders early. All orders booked and sent out in rotation. Early orders get most extras.

Send money with order and write name and address plainly. Package can be insured for 5 cents extra.

Always use same initials. Stamps accepted for any amount under one dollar.

When you receive your box of bulbs do not open them and then set them down to dry up. If not ready to plant, place bulbs at once in a box of damp (not wet) sand or earth and they will be nicely started when you are ready

Always give second choice.

Twelve, my selection, $1.00.

Twelve, higher priced ones, $2.00.

If large bulbs are wanted, send postage with order.

Blooms in season, 25c and 50c per bunch, according to price of bulbs.

Gardens open to visitors any day except Sunday.

I positively will not take orders or exhibit my flowers on Sunday.

Inside back cover for cultural directions.

NEW EXHIBITION CACTUS DAHLIAS

Stock limited on varieties marked †.

ARTHUR PICKARD—Flowers of finest form, with long, evenly-incurving petals. The color a light salmon. 25c.

†AUBURN BEAUTY—A very pleasing shade of bronze, bright yellow in the center; a favorite. 50c.

BRITISH LION—Monster flowers of a peculiar yellowish red or tawny. 75c.

CENTURION—Color, a rich glowing crimson scarlet; flowers composed of long narrow petals, which incurve, twist and interlace. 50c.

CHEVREFEUILLE—A lovely pink, with white center; the petals are beautifully pointed; an early bloomer. 25c.

CRYSTAL—White in center, passing to a deep silvery pink, plant dwarf, flowers large and beautiful. 50c.

DIAVOLA—Pale yellow, striped chocolate; fine bloomer. 15c.

DECISION (Cactus)—A splendid exhibition dahlia, with long, narrow incurved petals, deep yellow at center, shading to a golden bronze; a fine grower. 50c.

E. F. HAWES—The stems of this cactus are large and hard as a cane, the color is a pretty shade of clear salmon pink. 50c.

ETENDARD DE LYON—The petals are broad, curled and wavy and form a flower fully six inches across. It is a rich carmine rose, with brilliant suffusion hard to describe. 50c.

FALCON—A capital dahlia, combining the best possible habit with other good qualities. The stems are long and rigid, and the flowers are of good cactus type. Color, yellow at base and a reddish bronze at tips. 50c.

FEARLESS—One of the largest dahlias, if not the largest. The petals are very long, slightly incurved and as narrow as needles. Color, bright orange-scarlet. 50c.

FREDERICK WENHAM—One of the largest cactus dahlias yet raised, petals long and narrow, partially incurved but irregularly whirled and twisted, giving the flower a most graceful appearance. Color, a warm fawn pink, with soft salmon at center. 50c.

GIGANTIC—This monster is undoubtedly the finest exhibition cactus dahlia produced. The flowers are more massive than wide and form is perfection. Color, pure old gold. $1.00.

GOLDEN EAGLE—The flowers are of excellent form with long, needle point, narrow petals. Color is a bright yellow, suffused with rose, fawn and dove. The habit of the plant is perfect, carrying its profusion of blooms well above the foliage; a veritable porcupine flower. 25c.

INDOMITABLE—The petals narrow and long, much incurved, mauve lilac, lighter tips. 25c.

IRENE SATIS—Plants dwarf and have a bushy growth. Flowers full and of a large size. Color is amber, deepening to bronze on old petals. 75c.

JOHN RIDING—The plants of this are particularly sturdy, healthy growers and produce enormous bloom of splendid incurved, interlacing form. Color, deep, rich crimson. 50c.

LADY SWATHLING—A dahlia of beautiful color. Deep salmon pink, with a golden center. Petals long, quilled and straight. Flowers broad and deep. Upright grower and good bloomer. $1.00.

LORNA DOONE—Good, robust, not too tall grower, the flower stems being quite erect. Color, yellow at base, but the greater part of petals is a pinkish shade, yet decidedly tinged with carmine, as to make it quite distinct. 50c.

MAD. ESCHENAUR—Sulphur, cream base, shading into lavender points; beautiful. 50c.

MELODY—The most distinct of the new varieties and the most admired. Color, clear yellow for half the length of petals, the rest being pure white. Flowers of first rate size, typical cactus form and great depth. Good strong stems. 50c.

MISS STEDWICK—The form of flowers is excellent, the center perfect, the color is truly beautiful, a soft yellow at base, quickly changing to deep pink, with lighter tips. 50c.

MRS. H. BLACKMAN—This is another cactus dahlia with splendid stems, long, stiff and upright. Pretty rosy-pink on old petals, then lighter to blush and finally white at center. 75c.

MRS. M. STREDWICK—Far and away the finest of the Eng. Ex. Cactus Dahlias. The form is as perfect as possible; the plants have a grand habit with strong erect stems. Color, pink, softening and deepening at tips and base. $1.50.

MRS. C. G. WYATT—Pure, glistening, snow white. good form, fine bloomer. 50c.

MRS. HENRY RANDLE—Color, pale cream, changing to a lovely rosy tint and distinct tipped creamy white. 50c.

MRS. J. EMBERSON—Pale lemon, speckled with pink. 15c.

MRS. STEPHENS—Form of flower first class stems long and hard, and early, pale primrose throughout. 25c.

MRS. T. W. WILLIS—Petals long and very pointed, white base, rosy lilac tips, very beautiful. 50c.

OLD NORTH STATE—A sport from Mrs. Emberson. Pretty lemon yellow, edged with pink, large flowers, good bloomer. 25c.

OLYMPIC—A grand flower, of a deep rich crimson color, and of massive proportions, many flowers measuring eight inches across, and being exceptionally incurved, and of great depth as well. 75c.

†PATRIOT—Splendid erect habit, long strong stems, holding flowers up facing. Blooms are large and incurving and of a dark scarlet. 75c.

PIERROT—An unique and striking novelty. The color being deep amber, shaded darker and tipped with pure white. The flowers are very large and habit good. 50c.

PRIMA DONNA—Pale pink; large. 50c.

RICHARD BOX—Clear light yellow, the form is perfectly incurved; a strong feature of this variety is its grand flower stem, the blooms being held erect in spite of their great size and weight. 25c.

RHEIMS—A very beautiful flower and constant bloomer. Flowers large and incurving, yellow at base and tips with a lovely salmon pink between. 50c.

RELIANCE—A brownish red. Large full and incurved. 50c.

SENTINEL—A grand variety requiring little or no thinning and no disbudding, yet producing great flowers on huge stems. Color, deep rose with a disc of white at base. 75c.

SWEETBRIAR—An exquisite shade of rose pink. The finest pink cactus dahlia on the market. 50c.

TOPAZE—A dahlia of distinct and peculiar color, almost weird. Base of petals nearly white, but changing to shades of magenta purple and rose blended. Flowers of good size, narrow petals. Plants of good habit, and hard flower stems. $1.00.

VALIANT—A giant flower of brilliant crimson, carried on a giant stem. Form perfectly incurved. $1.00.

YELLOW KING—A very large Dutch hybrid cactus. Canary yellow, of good form and largest size. 50c.

NEW DECORATIVE DAHLIAS

ALBERT MANADA—A very large American decorative, with fine light green foliage, very stout stems. Flowers nearly a foot across and in shades of lemon, white and pink. 50c.

AMATEUR ROBIN—Not a very large dahlia, but a very beautiful one, and always attracte attention. Striped fawn and flesh. 50c.

BELoit—Large flowers, long stems; rich purplish garnet, deeper in center. 25c.

BRENTWOOD YELLOW—For a bed of all one color or outside border around a taller group, this is the dahlia. Only 2½ feet tall. Can be planted close. 50c.

BRILLIANT—A very large bright scarlet; petals turn back like a show. 50c.

CHALLENGE—Fine stem, holding flowers up facing; yellow at base, deeply edged garnet; gets lighter later. 50c.

CREAM KING—A very, very beautiful dahlia in form, size, color and habit. $1.00.

D. M. MOORE—Immense bloom of a dark maroon. Almost black. 25c.

DR. TEVIS—An immense Cal. decorative of a salmon rose shade, suffused with old gold and shading to a golden apricot center; the flowers are held erect on fine long vigorous stems. $1.00.

FUTURITY—Beautiful old rose. Blooms regularly formed. Blooms freely on good stems. 75c.

GEORGE WALTERS—Pinkish-salmon, shading to yellow at base; huge flowers freely produced on long stems. $1.00.

GIANT PURPLE—A fine large purple dahlia; hybrid between show and decorative, good stems, holding flowers up. 50c.

GUILLAUME DE ST. VICTOR—A very distinct decorative, palest mauve rose, good stems and beautiful flower. 50c.

HARRY DAVIDSON—A novelty of an entire new color. A rich mulberry, tipped gold, shading to a golden yellow at center. Fine stems. $1.00.

HOCHSAI (decorative)—Russet orange shading amber at tips, and brightened with a golden sheen. Flowers of fine form and size on good stems. 75c.

HORTULANUS FIET—A colossal flowered variety, with blooms over eight inches; color, a most delicate shade of shrimp-pink, the tips barely touched with gold. $1.00.

J. M. GOODRICH—Large flowers, on long upright stems; beautiful salmon pink, tipped with gold; a splendid cut flower. 50c.

J. R. BALDWIN—A splendid variety, a beautiful salmon red. 25c.

KING OF THE AUTUMN—Well-formed flower of the decorative type; color, buff-yellow and terra-cotta. Unique in color and shows in flower, stem and foliage; great vigor. $1.00.

KIFFIN ROCKWELL—Very, very large full flowers; outside petals rich bronze; inside petals bright golden yellow; sometimes tipped white; a very rare, beautiful dahlia. $1.00.

LE GRAND MANITOU—White, striped violet red, sometimes has a solid flower. 25c.

MAD. F. MOLLARD—The pure white form of Grand Duke Alexis. 50c.

MAMAN ROZAIN—Flowers enormous, but graceful, carried on long, rigid stems, petals large, slightly serrated, exterior petals deep velvety Tyrian purple, slightly margined white, interior petals pearl white, striped clear Tyrian purple, tinted rose at base. 50c.

MAMMOTH—Brilliant vermillion, shaded darker, large. 25c.

MARY C. BURNS—One of the best of recent California introductions. Color is a combination of red and old gold, the outside of petals being old gold and the reverse a dull red. The stem is particularly good. It is a free bloomer and every blossom is perfect. A wonderful exhibition and garden variety. $2.50.

MRS. CARL SALBACH—One of the 1920 introductions which won prizes wherever exhibited. A large flower of lavender pink with lighter tints toward the base of the petals, supported on the long, strong stems. Very free flowering, and fine for exhibition or cut flowers. $2.00.

OSAM SHUDOW—A delightful old rose slightly suffused with lilac, and shading to yellow at the center. The big, heavy, loose petals produce a flower more like a gigantic rose than a dahlia. The bush is very sturdy and tall, and the huge blooms are held well above the foliage on remarkably stiff stems. $5.00.

PAPA CHARMET—Coral red, shaded darker. 25c.

PRIDE OF CALIFORNIA—Huge flowers on long erect stems; color, crimson red; excellent for exhibition garden and a cut flower; fine keeping qualities. 75c.

PRINCE ALEXANDER—Truly a Prince of Dahlias; a very large flower held erect on long strong stems; flower shape very beautiful; color, shades of tan and cream flushed mauve-rose. $1.00.

PRINCESS PAT—A magnificent new decorative of a glorious shade of old rose. The flowers are very large, perfectly formed with broad recurving petals, growing well above the foliage on stiff stems. A good keeper as a cut flower and fine for exhibition. Vigorous grower. $2.25.

PURPLE MANITOU—Deep reddish purple. Free flowering. Good strong stems. Large flower. 25c.

SULPHUREA—Sulphur yellow, with long petals thrown back like a Japanese Chrysanthemum; blooms large and early. 50c.

THAIS—Pure white, shaded lilac, plant dwarf, long stems. 25c.

THE MILLIONAIRE—Most delicate lavender with a faint pink cast. Immense flowers often measuring 10 to 12 inches across; of unusual depth. A beautiful attraction and admired by many in our fields. $1.00.

CULTURE AND KEEPING OF BULBS

Dahlias will grow in any kind of soil, except soil that is soured by water standing on it.

They like full sun best, but will grow and bloom in partial shade. In the extreme south it will be best to plant in partial shade. A lath shelter over them would help.

Deep planting helps, too, with a mulch of leaves or boards around them. Deep breaking of soil, either by plow or spade, keeps the dry weather from injuring them. Ordinary good garden soil, not too rich, is best. Some plant in poor soil and apply fertilizers and bone meal to top after flower buds begin to show.

If soil is very sandy, leaf mold is a good fertilizer; or if stiff clay, add sand or leached ashes to loosen it some.

Stable manure can be used if well rotted. If not well rotted, it may cause bulbs to rot, especially if it touches them.

The bulb should be laid down flat and covered four to six inches deep. Three feet apart gives best results, but I have planted two feet each way, and the pompons one foot each way. They will not bloom much if weeds and grass choke them. The ground should be stirred around them after hard rains and never allowed to bake and get hard. For Exhibition Flowers, leave one stalk to bulb and tie it to a good stake, set well in the ground. Trim out every other branch. For just a row across vegetable garden, grown for cut flowers, I would pinch out the top when four teaves have formed and let them make four branches. Then hoe dirt up around to these branches. They will not need staking.

Another way is: when plants get three or four feet high, just bend them all over one way, down on the ground. They will grow up at ends and bloom just as well and need no staking. When frost kills the tops, cut them off, lift the clumps with shovel or garden fork. Let dry one-half day in sun and store in a dry cellar, covered with dry sand or just dry dirt. They will keep in a warm closet, packed in boxes of dry dirt. Or they may be left in the ground, south of Virginia, if a litter of dirt is made over each place. (They would have to be taken up in spring to be divided.) They can be "holed-up," as we do potatoes sometimes.

Do not divide up the clumps until spring. The new sprouts come on lower part of old stem (not on tubers), so part of this old stalk must be left to each tuber. If they have been kept very dry and "eyes" don't show enough to divide in April, carry the clumps out and bury in ground for a week. Plant one tuber in a hill.
